Attorney Christopher T. Radovich Joins Welborn Sullivan Meck & Tooley's Denver Office

March, 2018 (Denver, CO) The Energy and Natural Resources firm of Welborn Sullivan Meck & Tooley, P.C. is pleased to announce that Christopher T. Radovich has joined the firm as an associate in our Denver office.

Mr. Radovich's practice will focus on oil and gas title matters. He received his J.D. from the University of Denver in 2013.

Chris began his career in the energy industry as a field landman, examining title and negotiating mineral leases and acquisitions in Colorado and Wyoming. During and immediately following law school, he worked as a clerk in WSMT's Denver office, and then as an associate upon graduation.

Chris took a short hiatus from the energy industry to serve as a Judge Advocate in the United States Marine Corps. He first served as a Defense Counsel at Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center, Twentynine Palms, where he gained significant courtroom experience representing Marines and Sailors facing special and general courts-martial, boards of inquiry, administrative separation, and post-trial hearings. He then transferred to the Tactical Training and Exercise Control Group, where he served as an Operational Law Instructor and Live Fire Exercise Controller. In this capacity, he trained thousands of Marines and their leaders on application of the laws of armed conflict, rules of engagement, and the use of fires in urban terrain.

Welborn Sullivan Meck & Tooley, P.C. is an established leader in energy, natural resources, land-based development, business transactions and litigation. With offices in Denver, Colorado and Casper, Wyoming the firm's attorneys serve clients throughout the world. For more information: www.wsmtlaw.com
