Amy E. Seneshen Has Been Named Managing Partner of the Firm

June 2016 (Denver, CO/Casper, WY) The energy and natural resources law firm of Welborn Sullivan Meck & Tooley, P.C. is pleased to announce that Amy E. Seneshen, a member of the firm's oil and gas transactional practice, has been named Managing Partner of the firm. Keith Tooley, a founding member of the firm, said, "We are all grateful to Amy for her strong leadership over the last few years and this title formalizes her role. She will serve alongside Jeff Peterson, the firm's CFO, and Ken Jones, the firm's President."

Amy Seneshen began her legal career with the firm in 1997 immediately after graduation from William & Mary Law School. She assists oil and gas companies with acquiring and divesting oil and gas upstream and midstream assets throughout the United States. Ms. Seneshen also advises oil and gas companies on day-to-day operational matters and prepares oil and gas title opinions.

Founded in 1993, Welborn Sullivan Meck & Tooley, P.C. is an established leader in energy, business transactions and litigation. With offices in Denver, Colorado and Casper, Wyoming, the firm's 35 attorneys serve clients throughout the world. For more information: www.wsmtlaw.com.
